A Golfer's Paradise

Pattaya is long known as the paradise resort of the East. A description aptly suited today to the wide range of world class golf courses within a 40 km radius of the city. But whilst the quality is of top international level, the prices are not.

Most courses have been designed to championship standard by the world's top names in golf course architecture: Laem Chabang by Jack Nicklaus; Sri Racha by Gary Player; Khao Kheow by Pete Dye and St. Andrews by Desmond Muirhead. Nick Faldo even signed for 3 of the lay outs.

Playing in this delightful tropical climate, a caddy lightens the load and regular kiosks offer snacks and drinks to keep you fresh for peak performances. Afterwards the high standard of clubhouse facilities and services complete a memorable round of golf wherever you play. At every course you will be welcomed by friendly and courteous staff, to remind you that you are in the Land of Smiles and the Golf Paradise of the East.

The courses in the area welcome visitors seven days a week. Carts are compulsory on some but available on all courses. A minimum of 150 Baht tip is expected by the caddy after 18 holes. Courses generally allow 5-balls during the week and a maximum of 4 players per flight on weekends. To ensure a starting time is available, book in advance by phone or fax. Please note that only soft spikes are permissible on all courses on the Eastern Seaboard.

In all walks of Thai life it is considered bad manners to lose one's temper. This also applies on the golf course.

It's no exaggeration to claim that hardly any other resort in the world can offer so many courses of such high standard at such reasonable price.
